Vol 1 - No. 2
MARCH, 1979HOME HEALTH CARE FOR ELDERLY
RESULT OF HOSPITAL COALITION EFFORT

The James Cowan, President of United Hospitals of Newark, James William Harris, President of the Roseville Coalition, in a ceremony March 13 to launch a unique hospital-community joint venture in home health care in Newark.

Marked as a first such collaborative effort in home health care for the aged in Newark, the project is the result of working in planning between the Roseville Coalition and United Hospitals. The project grew out of a joint recognition of the health needs of senior citizens who are unable to properly care for themselves due to recent surgery, chronic illness, mental or physical handicap, and whose medical and nursing care needs are not being met by either public or private agencies.

"We have discovered many and significant of need and physical neglect among the senior citizens, whom we visit daily in our senior outreach project," said Coalition President Harris. "We resolved at our Third Convention in September to do something about the problem."

The Coalition, a volunteer group of citizens, business and professional people, Vivian Berry, who searches out the needs of seniors, and provides aid and information on senior rights and services. "I'm so happy to know that now we can finally respond to critical health care needs of our senior citizens," Mrs. Berry commented.

Over the past two years, the Coalition has had extensive experience with a variety of health needs of Roseville seniors.

Repeated cases of malnutrition led the Coalition to establish a Meals-on-Wheels program in March, 1978, and a Nutrition Center in July that same year. The staff of these nutrition projects, in its daily outreach to seniors, discovered that many seniors did not have a family doctor. Some were mentally or physically incapable of obtaining the services of a doctor. There were other cases serious illness because no preventive care was received, because seniors just needed assistance in taking medication or their families properly advised in a program of home care.

Agencies were not adequately serving the health care needs of seniors.

"We don't have to have seniors taken out of their homes and put in nursing homes for care," said Joan McIntyre, Coordinator of the Coalition's senior activities program. "We need competent medical and nursing care readily available to senior citizens to prevent the suffering and hardship they and their families experience in our Roseville neighborhood."

The home health care program for the elderly that was launched by United Hospitals and the Roseville Coalition is a three pronged.

The Coalition will refer cases of need not being met by private or public agencies responsible for care to elderly citizens, to United Hospitals. The hospital will then send a doctor name team to the home of the senior in need, accompanied by Coalition senior outreach workers.

"United Hospitals of Newark is pleased to be able to extend its competent medical and nursing care to the homes of the elderly in this cooperative association with the community and neighborhood surrounding our hospital," Dr. Cowan said.

Hospital se une a Coalicion en cuidado
médico para ancianos en Roseville

El Dr. James Cowan, Presidente del United Hospitals de Newark se unió al Señor William Harris, Presidente de la Coalición de Roseville en una ceremonia para inaugurar el nuevo programa de cuidado médico para ancianos en sus residencias.

Este programa único de cooperación entre hospital y comunidad es el primer sistema en la ciudad de Newark para brindarles cuidado médico a ancianos en sus casas. El programa es el resultado de muchas horas de planificación entre la Coalición de Roseville y United Hospitals. Este programa nació del conocimiento mutuo de las necesidades de ancianos que debido a recientes operaciones, enfermedades crónicas, o incapacitación física o mental, no pueden cuidar por sí mismos.

"Serán desatendidos muchas situaciones tristes de necesidad y descuido físico en nuestros ancianos, los cuales sufríanse de manera por medio de nuestros programas para ancianos," dijo el Señor Harris. "En nuestra Tercera Convención General nos comprometimos a buscar soluciones para este problema."

La Señora Vivian Berry, Directora de

Asistencia a los Ancianos de la Coalición está encargada de visitar y averiguar las necesidades de los ancianos y proveerles ayuda e información sobre derechos y servicios disponibles para ellos. "Entro muy contenta al fin podemos responder a las críticas necesidades médicas de nuestros ancianos," comentó la Señora Berry.

En los pasados dos años nuestra Coalición ha tenido extensa experiencia con varios problemas médicos de ancianos. Mediante casos de desnutrición nos llevó a establecer el programa de "Meals on Wheels" (Comida Sobre Ruedas), que les provee una comida nutritiva diaria a los ancianos que no pueden salir de sus casas o crecen por sí mismos en March del 1978, y un Centro de Nutrición en Julio del mismo año. Los empleados de este centro descubrieron que muchos ancianos no estaban recibiendo ningún cuidado médico y que muchos eran incapaces mental o físicamente de obtener servicios médicos. Muchos de los casos de referencias en los ancianos son debido a la ausencia de visitas preventivas y asistencia de su salud, enfermedades, o la necesidad de consejos a familiares en el estado de los ancianos.

"Muchos de las agencias sirviendo a las necesidades de ancianos no están cumpliendo sus labores adecuadamente. No tenemos que sacar a nuestros ancianos de sus casas e ingresarlos a asilos para que ellos reciban el cuidado que necesitan," dijo Joan Mc Intyre, Coordinadora de nuestro centro de Nutrición. "Necesitamos un equipo médico competente para prevenir la privación y el sufrimiento sufridos por los ancianos y sus familiares de nuestro vecindario".

El programa de cuidado médico para ancianos en residencias iniciado por el United Hospitals y la Coalición de Roseville es exactamente la respuesta necesaria a estos problemas.

La Coalición le refiere casos al United Hospitals, el cual mandará un equipo de médicos y enfermeras a la casa del anciano necesitado, acompañado por nuestros empleados de Asistencia de Ancianos.

"El United Hospitals está comprometido en brindarles cuidado de enfermería y médico competente a los ancianos en sus residencias en cooperación con la comunidad y el secundario proveedor de nuestro hospital," declaró el Doctor James Cowan.

SPEAK OUT

SLUMLORDS, EXPOSED OR PROTECTED

DUENOS DE PROPIEDADES DECAIDAS

Slumlords have become an establishment in every urban neighborhood, recognized as such by both neighborhood residents and city officials. They range from the "laxer" from the suburbs to the across-town small time investor. No matter who he is, the buildings are poorly managed and maintained in relation to the amount of money received from the rents, you've got a slumlord.

The tragic arson cases in Newark and Jersey City in recent months have brought forth all kinds of condemning statements and calls for action. Individual slumlords are singled out as hidden criminals now exposed for their misdeeds, the FBI investigates, the press does feature articles, and neighborhood groups hold arson conferences. From the Newark City Council went as far as enacting legislation to set up a heavily fined of $50,000.

Rev. Frank Testa, Coalition Housing Chairman, comments, "It's as though police officials didn't know these slumlords existed and that arson is an issue that is isolated from other factors that public officials have control over."

"The practice of 'arson for profit,' the term applied to property owners who burn down buildings for the insurance money, is traceable in the drawings of city halls and county courts that have not adequately dealt with slumlords," Rev. Testa said.

"Newark does not have an adequate property inspection program and does not have enough trained and licensed inspectors. There is certainly no consistent code enforcement in court action against slumlords. And when these landlords finally get into housing court, judges are notoriously and generally lenient toward slumlords."

Rev. Testa and Jerry Davis, housing advocate and former chairman of the New Jersey Housing and Land Use Coalition, went on to say that there was need for more than arson busts, proposals from Mayor Gibson to scrap back taxes on arson-destroyed buildings, and FBI post-mortem investigations.

"Politicians, housing inspectors judges, tenants and neighborhood residents all know who the slumlords are. They know who they are and how long they've been milking tenants for high rents and no repairs and maintenance," Rev. Testa said.

"It's time to stop with crisis statements from officials and to start a campaign to enforce the law and prosecute the slumlords who violate the law."

Properties in Rosedale neighborhood at the corner of W. Market and Myrtle Avenues, and 351 Seventh Avenue, against which the Rosedale Coalition has repeatedly filed complaints to the city for code violations.

Cada vecindario urbano tiene su "slumlord" los cuales se han convertido en establecimientos de estos vecindarios. Considerado como tal por residentes y oficiales de la ciudad. Existen diversos tipos de "slumlords" desde el mayoreo de los suburbios, al dueño de pequeñas propiedades, residentes de un mejor vecindario de la ciudad. No importa cual sea, cuando un edificio es sujeción por problemas y mal mantenimiento, para tener control un "slumlord" es su resultado.

Los trágicos casos de incendio premeditado en Newark y Jersey City han traído a la luz muchas declaraciones condenando públicamente a los dueños de estas propiedades decaídas. La prensa emerge a un individuo y la desmuestra como un criminal fugitivo, el FBI lo investiga, y organizaciones comunitarias dan conferencias sobre incendios. Hasta el consejo municipal pasa una ley estableciendo un fondo de $50,000 por el arresto y encarcelación del vecindario.

El Rev. Frank Testa, Presidente de nuestro Comité de Vivienda comenta, "Es como si los oficiales públicos no sabían de la existencia de 'slumlords' y que incendios premeditados en un mismo edificio de otros factores de cuales los oficiales públicos no venían."

"La culpa por la pérdida de incendios para sacar provecho o ganancias, el término dado a dueños que queman sus edificios para cobrar el seguro del seguro, se puede referir a los mentes criminales públicos y las cortes del criminal, los cuales no han respondido a la carga adecuadamente con los 'slumlords,'" dijo el Rev. Testa.

"Newark no tiene programa efectivo para inspeccionar viviendas y no hay suficiente inspectores licenciados para manejar esta inspección y no hay manera de fortalecer leyes a un punto de cual que no previene servicios alquilados. Cuando un 'slumlord' se arde el just por violaciones de las leyes gubernamentales viviendas, los jueces se demuestran muy lentos y cada vez que se deja la casa era mucha una pérdida."

Los policías, inspectores de vivienda, jueces, inspectores y residentes del vecindario saben quienes son los "slumlords". También saben que estos han estado violando a sus inquilinos por muchos tiempos cobrando rentas altas y no proporcionando servicios y mantenimiento.

Es tiempo de cesar las declaraciones, conferencias de oficiales y empezar una campaña para cumplir con las leyes y procesar a "slumlords" que violan la ley.

Coalition for neighborhoods calls arson conference

A special conference to combat the spread of arson in Newark has been called for Saturday, March 31 from 10:00 A.M. to 1:00 P.M. at La Casa de Don Pedro 80 Webster Place, Newark. Newark Coalition for Neighborhoods, an organization of some eight neighborhood groups, has called the meeting to devise strategies to stop the magic and senseless destruction of life and property in Newark. All Newark residents are urged to participate in the conference. "It's time to take the profit out of arson and to get the city to significantly enforce the code and the courts to mete out stiff penalties to slumlords". Rosedale Coalition tenant organizer Carlos Ortiz said in urging Rosedale people to participate in the upcoming arson conference.

Did You Get Your Tax Rebate?

As of December 31, 1978, Newark tenants should have received a portion of their landlord's tax rebate. If you have not received yours, contact Coalition tenant organizer, Carlos Ortiz at 482-4482.

PARENTS URGED TO JOIN PTAS FOR THE CHILDRENS SAKE

The Roseville Coalition has two community workers on its staff to help parents become aware of education issues and get involved in what is happening in our Roseville schools.

Helen Land and Juana Hernandez are working with Roseville parents and trying to get them involved in building up the PTAs as a means of giving parents an active role in what happens in our schools.

Helen and Juana have also been meeting regularly with school administrators, teachers and PTA officers of the Dr. William Hutton, Suarez Avenue and Roseville Avenue Schools to help build up parent participation in the PTAs.

"We've got a long way to go to convincing parents that they have a right and can have a voice in things like school policy and curriculum," said Helen Land, Chairperson of the Coalition Education Committee. "But we have seen progress in this direction. The recent school crisis has made more parents realize how 'out of the picture' they have been in the whole decision-making process of the school system."

The Coalition Education Committee was instrumental, along with the Board of Education, in setting up the Roseville Education Task Force to deal with the issues of understanding and the need for a new school. This task force included the First Avenue and Abing-Affington Avenue Schools which draw students from the Roseville neighborhood.

On February 22, the Coalition Education Committee, meeting with Board of Education President Carl Shaeff and Superintendent Alvaro Kimbrell, both explained the Board of Education's reasons for laying off 1,300 school personnel, eliminating certain subjects and services from elementary schools and cutting back certain personnel in the school system.

The Roseville Coalition parents immediately saw the opportunity to organize and express its view on the matter.

"We have heard a lot from the Board of Education and the teachers, but we haven't heard enough from the parents," said Juana Hernandez, Coalition education organizer. "We are conducting a survey of Roseville parents to get a clear view of how parents feel about the lay-offs, and curriculum and policy changes."

The Coalition Education Committee will host another meeting March 22 with Superintendent Kimbrell and principals of Roseville schools to answer the many questions parents raised about program modification at the February 22 meeting.

Roseville parents are urged to attend the March 22 meeting with Kimbrell. It will be held at the Roseville Presbyterian Church Hall, 36 Roseville Avenue.

La Coalición de Roseville tiene dos trabajadores comunitarios para informar a los padres sobre los problemas en el sistema educativo y para involucrarlos en lo que está pasando en las escuelas de Roseville.

Helen Land y Juana Hernandez están trabajando con los padres de Roseville para construir miembros en Asociación de Padres y Maestros de nuestras escuelas, para que los padres tengan un papel activo en los asuntos educativos en Roseville.

Helen y Juana han estado reuniéndose regularmente con padres, administradores, maestros y oficiales del PTA de las escuelas Dr. Hutton, Suarez Avenue y Roseville Avenue para estar en armonía la participación de las Asociaciones de Padres y Maestros.

"Tenemos un camino largo que viajar para convencer a los padres que ellos tienen el derecho de expresar sus opiniones sobre las reglas del sistema educativo y planes educativos, pero hemos visto progreso en esta dirección. La reciente crisis escolar le ha causado a los padres lo poco que se le ha considerado sus opiniones en las decisiones hechas en el sistema escolar," dijo la Señora Helen Land, presidenta del Comité de Educación.

El Comité de Educación de la Coalición de Roseville fue instrumental en el funcionamiento del Comité Educativo nombrado por la Junta de Educación para investigar con el problema visto involucración en las escuelas de Roseville. Este comité también cuenta con miembros de las escuelas Abing-Affington Avenue y First Avenue en cuyos días han trabajado que aceptan condiciones de nuestras escuelas debido a este problema.

El pasado Febrero 22, nuestro comité de Educación se reunió con el Señor Carl Shaeff, Presidente de la Junta de Educación y el Señor Alvaro Kimbrell, Superintendente de Escuelas. Los dos explicaron las razones por las que la Junta despidió 1,300 empleados de las escuelas, y porque tuvieron que eliminar varios servicios y asignaciones en nuestras escuelas. Para recibir la ayuda a los padres la oportunidad de expresar y expresar sus opiniones, sobre estas acciones.

El Comité de Educación tendrá otra reunión con el Señor Kimbrell y principales de las escuelas de Roseville el 22 de Marzo para que todos contesten las preguntas que sobre los padres sobre lo que es el plan de modificación propuesto por la Junta de Educación.

Le invitamos a que asistan a esta reunión que se llevará cabo el 22 de Marzo, en la Iglesia Presbiteriana de Roseville, 36 de la Avenida Roseville, a las 7:30 pm.

Duffy Succeeds Cullen in North District Precinct

Captain Edward L. Duffy has replaced Captain Edward Cullen as the commander of the North District Precinct on Orange Street. Cullen was appointed Director of the Newark Police Academy.

"We will miss the fine cooperation of Captain Cullen that we had in our dealings with him over the past few years," said Louise Gallagher, the Coalition's first Police Commission Chairperson.

Captain Duffy comes to Roseville from the West Ward Precinct command. About 5'4", Duffy carries a friendly smile and a firm hold on his command.

While he is quick to state the present limitations of manpower in police coverage, Duffy is also quick to state his commitment to offer the best service possible to the North District. He has also pledged to continue monthly meetings with the Roseville Coalition's crime Police Protection Committee and to work with the community in correcting problems under his responsibility.

At a March meeting with the new commander, the new Coalition Crime and Police Protection Committee Chairman Joseph Grant pointed out the continuing existence of serious drug hang-outs on N. Ninth Street and Sixth Avenue and Park Avenue two blocks up from the First House. Duffy agreed to follow-up on these complaints.

Captain Edward L. Duffy, new commander of the North District Precinct, reviews problems in the Roseville neighborhood with members of the Coalition Crime and Police Protection Committee, Louise Gallagher and Mary Ryan.

NUEVO CAPITAN DE POLICIA

El Capitán de Policía, Edward L. Duffy ha sucedido al puesto del Capitán Edward Cullen en el Precinct del Norte en la calle Orange. El Capitán Cullen ha sido nombrado Director de la Academia de Policía de Newark.

Mientras 5'4" de altura, el Capitán Duffy lleva una sonrisa amable y gran firmeza en el cumplimiento de su mando.

Aún reconociendo las limitaciones de las fuerzas disponibles para prevenir delitos, el Capitán Duffy se ha comprometido a brindar a nuestro vecindario el mejor servicio posible. El ha prometido continuar reuniéndose mensualmente con nuestro Comité de Protección Policial y trabajar en unión a nuestra comunidad para corregir los problemas del crimen en nuestro vecindario.

En una reunión llevada a cabo en Marzo, el nuevo presidente del Comité de Protección Policial de nuestra Coalición, el Señor Joseph Grant señaló al posibilitar continuo de la sesión de después en la calle Orange de la 1ra Avenida y en la avenida Park cerca de la estación de autobuses. El Capitán nos sugiere que tengamos estos corajes.

YOUTH PROJECT DRAWS 1000 IN FIRST MONTH

Within the first month of operation the Riverside Coalition Youth Project has had more than 1,000 young Riverside participants from ages 8 to 17.

Most of the Youth Project's after-school activities are held in the facilities of the Riverside Presbyterian Church. The Project also meets the Girl Scouts at St. Thomas Church on Thursday evenings.

Mr. James Bridges has joined the Coalition recreation staff, bringing years of experience as youth recreation supervisor in Job Corps and other youth development projects. Other staff members of the Recreation Project include Carolyn Miles, Jose Colon, Maryann Pringle and Juan Jordan.

Weight lifting has been added to the activities program, which includes basketball, volleyball, ping pong, table games, and arts and crafts.

"We anticipate expansion of our project in the Spring to include playground activities and softball, after we complete the field at Seventh Avenue and N. Third Street," said Edie Roper, Coordinator of the Coalition Youth Project.

"Because registration fees for participation in the Youth Project were distributed through the Riverside schools, some parents and students have thought that the schools were sponsoring the project. The Youth Recreation Project is sponsored solely by the Riverside Coalition.

"We are asking the parents of the youth participating in our project for their help in supporting our activities," Edie Roper argued. "We ask for very little time involvement but we need volunteers. We need this kind of cooperation from our parents to make our program a success."

Programa para los Jóvenes

Anticipamos expansión nuestro programa en el verano para incluir softbol y otros juegos de cancha al completarse nuestra cancha en el parque de la 7th Avenida y la calle 3.

Por el hecho de que nuestros fondos de aplicación fueron distribuidos por las escuelas locales, muchos personas creen que estos son los que patrocinan este programa. El programa de Recreación es patrocinado solamente por la Coalición de Riverside.

Solicitamos la ayuda voluntaria de los padres de Riverside o de personas interesadas en nuestra juventud. Necesitamos esta tipo de cooperación para que nuestro programa sea un gran éxito.
